

I firmly believe that NJ should continue to maintain its current telephone consumer protection act. This very critical protection has helped eliminate fraud and victimization of senior citizens, aided in the efforts to protect identity and prevent identity theft, and helps reinforce a truly "family" environment in the lives of thousands of New Jerseyans. Life is stressful enough, and home should be a place of peace, tranquility, and calm. Telemarketers and solicitors prevent this. Please do not dismantle this key piece of legislation.
